

Mark Bolgiano

President and CEO

XBRL US

mark.bolgiano -at- xbrl.us

Mark Bolgiano is the President and CEO of XBRL US, the national consortium for XML business reporting standards and developers of the XBRL US GAAP Taxonomies. Previously, he led the technology and internet communications teams at the Council on Foundations as Vice President and Chief Information Officer. Mr. Bolgiano provides strategic, operational, and program leadership for membership organizations over a twenty-year career using a collaborative, data-driven and member-focused approach. That career, based on undergraduate and graduate studies in statistics and analysis, and ten years leading the finance, operations, and technology teams at the Washington Board of Trade has focused his attention on transformational technologies as an executive, writer, and public speaker.